Dear Anglesey County Council,

RE: Support for the Anglesey Freeport

On behalf of MoltexFLEX, and following discussions with Virginia Crosbie, MP for Ynys Môn, I am writing in support of the proposed freeport on the Isle of Anglesey.

Anglesey has unique characteristics that appeal to our long-term business interests; its well-established trade infrastructure and renowned position as a sustainable energy hub make it extremely attractive. There is huge potential for nuclear development as part of the sustainable energy mix on the island, in particular at Wylfa Nwydd. We urge the UK government to create the conditions which would attract the latest technologies and innovations to North Wales, including our own FLEX reactor technology.

At MoltexFLEX, we are committed to developing a flexible energy source to compliment intermittent renewables, and believe the UK can be a global leader in advanced nuclear technology. This will create high-value jobs and ensure crucial skills are developed and maintained, as well as deliver economic growth. We believe the Anglesey freeport will stimulate investment in the local (and national) nuclear industry, and help move the UK closer to net zero.

As such, our business remains resolute in its support of your proposal.

Yours sincerely,
